Register today for USM LSAMP Fall 2018 Research Symposium, taking place at the University of Maryland, College Park on Saturday, December 8, 2018!

REGISTRATION FORM

The 2nd Annual University System of Maryland (USM) LSAMP Fall Research Symposium provides students with the opportunity to both view and present research through poster, traditional oral, and TED-style presentations, while also enhancing their scientific development and STEM identity. This research symposium focuses on supporting students in the science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) fields. Learn more about the symposium here: http://cmse.umd.edu/USMLSAMPResearchSymposium.

Limited space is available. All participants must pre-register!
